

HAMILTON COUNTY JUVENILE SERVICES CENTER

S.T.A.R. UNIT

RESIDENT HANDBOOK

Revised January 25, 2009

HAMILTON COUNTY JUVENILE SERVICES CENTER

You have just entered the Juvenile Services Center S.T.A.R. Unit program. The acronym "S.T.A.R." stands for Supervised Transition and Reentry.

We will ask that you observe the rules of the program. The rules are for two basic reasons: 1. Your safety, and 2. To maintain structure and order in the program. The rules are simple if you choose to follow them. If you disobey the rules, consequences will be given. Please feel free to ask questions if there are things you do not understand. We will do our best to answer any questions that you may have.

The Resident Handbook has been given to you to help you in your placement. Please read the handbook all the way through. The following is a description of the program.

Merit System

During your placement, you will earn one of three merit statuses. A merit status is determined by a three-day average of your points. The three merit statuses are: Beginner, Learner, and Achiever. You will begin the program on Beginner status. Below is an explanation of each merit status:

- Beginner: If you average 77 points or less (65% or less) over three days, you will be on "Beginner" status. Beginners receive the least amount of privileges. As mentioned earlier, you will begin the program as a "Beginner". You will remain on this status until your fourth day in the program. At this time we will compile your three-day average. Depending upon your three-day average, you will either remain on Beginner status, or improve to Learner or Achiever status. Your daily status will now be figured each day based upon your previous three days average of points.
- Learner: If you average 78 - 95 points (66% - 84%) over three days, you will be on "Learner" status. Learners receive more privileges than Beginners, but not as many as Achievers.
- Achiever: If you average 96 or more points (85% or more) over three days, you will be on "Achiever" status. Achievers receive the most privileges.

Privileges Within the Merit System

The higher the point average, the more privileges you will receive. Listed below are the merit statuses and their corresponding privileges:

Beginner:

1. 8:00 p.m. bedtime
2. Board Games
3. Television
4. Three (3) phone calls to approved family members per week
5. Receive one approved family visit per week

Learner:

1. 8:45 p.m. bedtime
2. Board Games
3. Television
4. Learner Coupon Box
5. Four (4) phone calls to approved family members per week
6. May "purchase" video game time with coupons (may purchase up to 30 minutes per week)
7. Receive one approved family visit per week

Points

You will begin each day with zero points. However, based upon your performance you may earn up to 120 points per day. A staff member will explain the point sheet to you and answer any questions that you may have. Your performance in each category will be evaluated on a scale of 0 to 5. Below is an explanation of the points:

- 5 – Excellent (Outstandingly good of its kind; of exceptional merit)
- 4 – Above Average (Better than ordinary or normal)
- 3 – Average (Ordinary or normal)
- 2 – Below Average (Less or lower than ordinary or normal)
- 1 – Unsatisfactory (Not satisfying or meeting demands; inadequate)
- 0 – Refused to complete/participate

Coupons

If you do something positive, staff may give you a coupon. If you disobey a rule in the Primary or Serious Consequence section you will have to “pay” a specified amount of coupons to staff for your actions. Coupons can be used to buy anything in the Learner and Achiever Coupon Boxes as well as Learner and Achiever video game time.

Coupons can be given anytime, but you must be a Learner or Achiever to buy something. You may spend as many of your coupons per day as you desire. If you are placed in your room for disciplinary reasons, you will not be allowed to use your coupons. Also, the Coupon Boxes and video game time is a privilege and can be revoked. All efforts are made to keep the Coupon Boxes stocked, but at times this may not happen immediately after it is depleted.

Behavior Guidelines

As discussed earlier, we ask that you observe our rules for two basic reasons: 1) for your safety, and 2) to maintain structure and order to the program. We will do our best to make sure that you are informed of every rule. However, to maintain structure and order it is possible that a staff member will ask you to comply with something that is not specifically stated in the handbook. An example of this situation might be when told to go to your room while staff attends to a problem. Although it is not a “rule” that you go to your room in this situation, you would be expected to follow instructions. Basically, we ask that you not only observe our rules, but also our instructions. The following is a list of general rules followed by more specific rules and discipline.

General Rules and Consequences

In the program, you may receive disciplinary consequences for not following rules and/or for inappropriate behaviors. Journal Writing: Resident's will write about various topics.

Thinking Log: In the Thinking Log, you must write three (3) things that happened to you in the last three (3) days. After you complete the Log, a staff member will discuss your Log with you.

Goal Setting: When you enter the program, you will be required to set goals for yourself. You will have three (3) goals in which you will be graded on during first and second shifts. Changing Inappropriate Thinking Worksheet: You are expected to remember one thing from the day before in which you could have handled better. After writing what you did, you are asked to remember what you were thinking at the time. Often, a person's thoughts about a situation influence how they will act in that situation. This worksheet teaches you that if you think the right things, you will do the right things.

Education Program

If you are currently enrolled in school, you will continue to attend the school and classes as scheduled. Arrangements will be made by the facility to transport you to your school. If you are a G.E.D. candidate, G.E.D. preparation lessons will be given.

If you are currently enrolled in school, you are also responsible for taking a homework sheet to school every day. The homework sheet must be signed by every teacher you have that day. If you forget to have your homework sheet signed or do not bring it back, it will result in a written incident report.

If you are suspended or expelled from school, you will be automatically transferred to secure detention for a minimum of a seventy-two (72) hour period upon your arrival to the unit. Upon returning from secure detention, your level will be on Beginner Status.

Life Skills

Life Skills will be taught on a daily basis. Residents who are in the unit on first shift will be taught a lesson from the Life Skills binder or another lesson prepared by staff. All residents will learn a Life Skills lesson on second shift.

Religion

With approval from your Probation Officer, you will be permitted to attend an off-site religious ceremony. Your parents/guardians must provide transportation in order for you to attend. The facility has a chaplain on staff that you may request to meet with at any time.

You are permitted to have a Bible or any other religious material to keep in your room. You may also have one (1) religious pendant not to exceed one inch (1”) in size.

Recreation

As a privilege, you are able to use the indoor gymnasium and if weather permits, the outdoor recreation area. If behavior is positive, we will often schedule additional recreation time. If you leave messes, do not take care of the gymnasium equipment, or rough house, you may lose the privilege of using the gym. When walking to recreation, you are to walk silently in a single file line with your hands behind your back. You may not touch another resident in any way. Residents must understand that if circumstances arise, gymnasium time may not fit into each daily schedule.

Medical/Dental

If you are feeling ill or wish to see the nurse, let a staff member know. They will complete a medical slip and the nurse will see you as soon as possible. If you are taking a prescribed medication, staff will administer it to you as directed by the nurse.

If you wish to see a dentist, you must have your parent/guardian schedule an appointment and receive approval from your Probation Officer.

Probation

If you would like to speak with your Probation Officer, you may fill out a request form to do so. Staff will provide this for you upon request.

Staff will dial the number for you and you will be monitored at all times during the call. Phone times last for fifteen (15) minutes. Phone calls will be set up for the week on Mondays according to the resident's level. Phone times may not be moved or switched to any other day/night than originally set. Residents are expected to follow all rules for use of phone time. Phone privileges will be lost for one (1) week if rules are violated.

Incoming and Outgoing Mail

We will provide you with paper and envelopes so you may correspond with family and friends by mail. We will also give you one (1) stamp per day. You will only receive this stamp if you write a letter. In other words, you cannot save stamps. You may purchase one (1) additional stamp per day by giving staff a coupon.
